

VIRTUAL FORUMS

The Truth About High Stakes Testing & College and Career Readiness

Denisha Jones, Ph.D.

Executive Director, Defending the Early Years

High-stakes standardized testing has been touted as necessary for preparing young adults for college and careers. Despite many colleges making tests optional, several states, including Massachusetts, require a high-stakes standardized test for graduation. An overreliance on standardized testing has not created students better prepared for college or careers. In fact, standardized testing causes more harm than good. This webinar will address the truth about high-stakes testing and college and career readiness.

Hosted by the
ANTI-RACISM TASK FORCE

SCAN THE QR CODE
TO REGISTER

 Wednesday, October 23

 6:00 pm - 7:00 pm

 Virtual by Zoom

massteacher.org/mtaforums